Project Description

Tileflair in Oxford is a busy retail showroom situated just along the Eastern bypass that links the local area to a thriving retail estate.

During construction, the entrance area needed to be suitably prepared for footfall.

When thinking about entrances, they should be warm and inviting but even better when serving a valuable purpose.

Genesis entrance matting was the perfect solution to allow safe entry along with minimal dirt transfer from footfall when entering the showroom.

Our TrakMat entrance matting is a versatile system, this matting incorporates aluminium sections with rubber or carpet inserts that link with semi-rigid PVC to cushion traffic and minimise noise.

With minimal aftercare and maintenance, this entrance mat is set to remain in place for years to come!

Thanks to Tileflair in Oxford for sharing this project with us.
